Charlestown Woman Arrested for Dealing in Methamphetamine

Kayla S. Gabbard

A Charlestown woman was arrested for dealing in methamphetamine and other drug-related charges after troopers and officers from the Charlestown Police Department searched her residence on Friday, March 12.

Trooper Zach Smith, with the Sellersburg Post All Crimes Policing Squad (ACP), began an investigation in February of this year when he and Charlestown Police units learned of possible drug activity at 202 Reynolds Street in Charlestown. As a result of the investigation, Trooper Smith requested a search warrant for the property. On Friday, the Sellersburg Post ACP team and officers with the Charlestown Police Department served the warrant and located approximately 10 grams of methamphetamine, pills, marijuana, and other drug-related items on the premises.

As a result of the investigation and subsequent search, Kayla S. Gabbard, 32, Charlestown, was arrested for the following:
-Dealing Methamphetamine - Level 5 Felony
-Possession of Methamphetamine -Level 6 Felony
-Maintaining a Common Nuisance- Level 6 Felony
-Possession of Controlled Substance- Class A Misdemeanor

Kayla Gabbard was incarcerated at the Clark County Jail without incident.

All subjects are presumed innocent until and unless proven guilty in a court of law.

Tax Day for individuals extended to May 17

The Treasury Department and Internal Revenue Service announced on March 17 that the federal income tax filing due date for individuals for the 2020 tax year will be automatically extended from April 15, 2021, to May 17, 2021. The IRS will be providing formal guidance in the coming days.

"This continues to be a tough time for many people, and the IRS wants to continue to do everything possible to help taxpayers navigate the unusual circumstances related to the pandemic, while also working on important tax administration responsibilities," said IRS Commissioner Chuck Rettig. "Even with the new deadline, we urge taxpayers to consider filing as soon as possible, especially those who are owed refunds. Filing electronically with direct deposit is the quickest way to get refunds, and it can help some taxpayers more quickly receive any remaining stimulus payments they may be entitled to."

Individual taxpayers can also postpone federal income tax payments for the 2020 tax year due on April 15, 2021, to May 17, 2021, without penalties and interest, regardless of the amount owed. This postponement applies to individual taxpayers, including individuals who pay self-employment tax. Penalties, interest and additions to tax will begin to accrue on any remaining unpaid balances as of May 17, 2021. Individual taxpayers will automatically avoid interest and penalties on the taxes paid by May 17.

Individual taxpayers do not need to file any forms or call the IRS to qualify for this automatic federal tax filing and payment relief. Individual taxpayers who need additional time to file beyond the May 17 deadline can request a filing extension until Oct. 15 by filing Form 4868 through their tax professional, tax software or using the Free File link on IRS.gov. Filing Form 4868 gives taxpayers until October 15 to file their 2020 tax return but does not grant an extension of time to pay taxes due. Taxpayers should pay their federal income tax due by May 17, 2021, to avoid interest and penalties.

The IRS urges taxpayers who are due a refund to file as soon as possible. Most tax refunds associated with e-filed returns are issued within 21 days.

This relief does not apply to estimated tax payments that are due on April 15, 2021. These payments are still due on April 15. Taxes must be paid as taxpayers earn or receive income during the year, either through withholding or estimated tax payments.

In general, estimated tax payments are made quarterly to the IRS by people whose income isn't subject to income tax withholding, including self-employment income, interest, dividends, alimony or rental income. Most taxpayers automatically have their taxes withheld from their paychecks and submitted to the IRS by their employer.

Spring storm lightning safety tips

Spring storms are a common occurrence, and along with those spring storms comes the danger of lightning. The National Weather Service offers helpful tips to assist individuals in dealing with weather situations.

Don't Get Caught Outside

No place outside is safe when a thunderstorm is in the area. If outside, individuals should get inside as soon as they hear thunder. It is recommended to run to a substantial building or hard-topped metal vehicle as fast as you can. If unable to can't get to a safe building or vehicle:

Avoid open areas. Don't be the tallest object in the area.
Stay away from isolated tall trees, towers or utility poles. Lightning tends to strike the taller objects in an area.
Stay away from metal conductors such as wires or fences. Metal does not attract lightning, but lightning can travel long distances through it.
If with a group of people, spread out. While this actually increases the chance that someone might get struck, it tends to prevent multiple casualties, and increases the chances that someone could help if a person is struck.

If Someone Is Struck

Cardiac arrest is the immediate cause of death for those who die. Lightning victims do not carry an electrical charge and may need first aid immediately.

Call for help. Call 9-1-1.
Give first aid. Begin CPR if you are trained.
Use an Automatic External Defibrillator if one is available. These units are lifesavers!
Don't be a victim. If possible, move the victim to a safer place. Lightning can strike twice.

Avoid The Lightning Threat

Have a lightning safety plan. Know where you'll go for safety and ensure you'll have enough time to get there.

Postpone activities. Consider postponing activities if thunderstorms are forecast.
Monitor the weather. Once outside, look for signs of a developing or approaching thunderstorm such as towering clouds, darkening skies, or flashes of lightning.
Get to a safe place. If you hear thunder, even a distant rumble, seek safety immediately. Fully enclosed buildings with wiring and plumbing are best. A hard-topped metal vehicle with the windows closed is also safe.
Stay inside until 30 minutes after the last rumble of thunder. Sheds, picnic shelters,tents or covered porches do not protect you from lightning.

To learn more about lightning safety, visit: www.weather.gov/lightning.

This event will be held in the picnic area unless there is inclement weather. Interpretive Center admission is not required. $2 a ticket. Masks and social distancing are required.

Rose Island Hikes on April 3 & 10

The Charlestown State Park is hosting their Saturday Rose Island History hikes on Saturday, April 3 and Saturday, April 10 from 10 a.m. to noon.

Those interested in hiking should meet at the trail 3 and 4 parking lot for the guided tour of Rose Island, a once forgotten summer resort. Tours typically last two hours and require hiking approximately 2.3 miles including a steep paved hill.

Longstanding farm families presented with Hoosier Homestead Awards

The Dickey Family of Clark County (pictured above) was recently recognized as one of 51 farms in Indiana for their committment to the state's agriculture. The Peacock Family of Scott County (pictured below) of Scott County was also recognized . Both farms have been in existence over 100 years.

Longstanding local farms were recently presented Hoosier Homestead awards for being in operation for over 100 years, according to State Rep. Zach Payne (R-Charlestown).

Hoosier Homestead Centennial Awards were presented to the Steve and Carrie Peacock farm in Scott County, which has been in operation since 1906, and the Dickey farm of Clark County in operation since 1911.

"These awards recognize farmers who have contributed to our state and local economy for at least a century," Payne said. "Indiana has a rich agricultural history, and I look forward to seeing these families continue their success for years to come."

The families were among 51 farms recognized at the Indiana State Museum for their commitment to Indiana agriculture.

The Hoosier Homestead Award Program recognizes farms that have been owned and maintained by the same family for 100 years or more. Families can qualify for centennial, sesquicentennial or bicentennial awards.

Each year, two awards ceremonies are held in the spring and summer commemorating the achievements of farm families across the state. For more information on the Hoosier Homestead Award Program, visit in.gov/isda/2337.htm.

National Safe Place Week March 21-27

National Safe Place Network (NSPN) is pleased to announce March 21-27, 2021 as National Safe Place (NSP) Week. The nationally recognized week serves to raise awareness about the Safe Place program, a national program which brings together youth service agencies, businesses, volunteers and other community partners to help youth in crisis.

"Unfortunately, young people face troubling issues in today's world, such as abuse, neglect, bullying and serious family problems," said Laurie Jackson, President and CEO of NSPN. "It's up to all of us to offer solutions, places where youth can go to get help. National Safe Place Week is the perfect opportunity for communities across the country to assess and strengthen their safety net for youth."

Safe Place consists of a national network of more than 22,000 partnering businesses and community locations, such as fast-food restaurants, convenience stores, fire stations, public buses and libraries, which display the Safe Place sign in their windows. As youth enter a designated Safe Place and ask for help, trained staff members connect them to the appropriate youth shelter for assistance.

In addition to Safe Place sites, youth may also access immediate help via TXT 4 HELP, a text-for-support service for youth in crisis. Teens can text the word "safe" and their current location (address, city, state) to 4HELP (44357) to receive a message with the closest Safe Place location and the number for the local youth shelter. Users also have the option to text interactively with a counselor for more help.

Safe Place, operated locally by Clark County Youth Shelter and Family Services, Inc., partners with businesses and community organizations to provide immediate safety and support for local youth. Local Safe Place site locations include Kroger, YMCA, Police and Fire Departments and more.

The Clark County Youth Shelter recently held a Safe Place Proclamation in honor of National Safe Place Week. Jeffersonville Mayor Mike Moore, visited the Shelter and proclaimed the week of March 21-27 as National Safe Place Week in Jeffersonville. The Shelter has operated the Safe Place program for Clark and Floyd Counties since 1987. The program has assisted over 800 youth in crisis from the community.
