Scottsburg Plan Commission to hear plans for new housing subdivisions

Two hearings involving proposed housing subdivisions off U.S. Highway 31 (Gardner Street) in Scottsburg will be held starting at 6 p.m. on Monday, May 17.

Both will be held at City Hall. The first hearing involves the Hidden Meadows Subdivision, the entrance to which is located off Cope Lane.

Developers want to create ten more building lots there. Steps necessary include a hearing by the Scottsburg Advisory Plan Commission (SAPC) to consider primary approval of the subdivision on 5.4 acres.

The property is contiguous with and has access to the existing Hidden Meadows.

The second hearing will consider subdivision plat approval for 2,048 acres at 2220 U.S. Highway 31 South. Those developers want to create a small or minor subdivision for the purpose of disposing of the property. The ground is currently zoned Heavy Industrial and is located near Multi-Color Corporation.

Both of the applications and supporting documents can be viewed at the SAPC offices on the second floor of Scottsburg City Hall until two working days prior to the hearings.

All hearings are open to the public, members of which may comment or express opinions at appropriate times during the hearings.

Carroll Ray "Dutch" Kleopfer passed away on April 24, 2021, on his farm with his wife of 67 years, Marilyn Manuugh Kleopfer, by his side. Born January 1, 1934, in Jefferson County, he was the youngest son of Gale "Casey" and Mary Gray Kleopfer. Dutch grew up on Thomas hill and lived there until his family moved to Lancaster. After graduating from North Madison High School in 1951, he worked for the Indiana State Highway Department and Standerford Ford. He and Marilyn were married on June 20, 1953, at the Hanover United Methodist Church. Dutch was drafted into the U.S. Army in March 1954. After serving two years in Germany, he and Marilyn moved to their beautiful farm on Big Creek, where they have lived ever since, raising their six children and one of their granddaughters. They have been stewards of their 318 acres, growing corn, soybeans, and tobacco. After running a dairy for twenty years, they transitioned to raising beef cattle. Whether the growing seasons were too wet, too dry, or just right, the harvests poor or bountiful, Dutch and Marilyn were a team on the farm and taught their children to love the land and the importance of hard work. Like many farmers at the time, Dutch drove a school bus. For 41 years he safely transported students to and from Southwestern schools. Upon retirement, he was hauling the third generation of some families.

Dutch was an active member of his community. He served on the Jefferson County Zoning Board, Kent Water Company, Smyrna Township Advisory Board, and Southwestern School Board. He was a member of the Indiana University Big Red Club, Hanover Optimist Club, and Hanover United Methodist Church. A lover of sports, Dutch enjoyed watching the Cincinnati Reds and went to several games. During basketball season, he made almost weekly trips to Bloomington to support the Hoosiers. Dutch was a devoted Southwestern Rebel. For several years he went to home and away games to watch the boys and girls play basketball. As long as he was able, he followed both teams wherever their season tournaments took them. In 2018, Dutch was very proud to be inducted into the Southwestern Athletics Hall of Fame.

In addition to Marilyn, Dutch is survived by his son Steve and his wife Teri of Lexington, granddaughters Amber Kleopfer Senseny (Matt) and Kirstie Craven (Eric), and great-grandchildren, Skylar, Henry, Steven, Luci, and Alexander. Son Jim and his wife Felicia of Madison, granddaughters Kasie Bear (Abe), Kristy Krulik (Jeremy), and grandson Evan, and great-grandchildren Calli, Harlan, Tatum, Oliver, Porter, Lealynn, Gabriel, and Madelyne. Son Lance and companion Debbie of Hanover, grandchildren Jason, Samantha (Wes), Bethani, and Blake, and great-grandsons Kolten and Bryce. Daughter Janet Kleopfer and her husband Tom Anderson, of Madison and grandchildren Casey and Callie. Son Chad and his wife Tami of Madison, grandchildren Hunter (Jayde), Logan (Meagan), Jake (Courtney), and great-grandson Beckham, and coming in July, great-granddaughter Lilly Ray. Daughter Calli Behm and her husband Kevin of Solon, Ohio, and grandchildren Marilyn, Mattie, and Jack. Sisters-in-law include Carolyn Kleopfer of Syracuse, Lydia Manuugh of Hanover, Margaret Gray of Brookfield, Wisconsin, Linda Adams of Hanover, Charlene Manuugh of Madison, Karen Todd of Hanover, and brothers-in-law Melvin Adams and Robert Manuugh and his wife Therese of Brandon, Florida. Dutch's Cousins are Jake Kleopfer (Shirley), Rosemary Bennett (Dan), June Nichols, and Don Gray. Dutch is loved by several nieces and nephews.

Dutch was preceded in death by his parents and his brother Dr. Ronald Kleopfer, Marilyn's parents Albert and Callamatta Manuugh, and brothers-in-law Jim (Cookie), Dick and Jack Manuugh, and Harold Gray. Dutch's uncles were Willard Kleopfer (Erma), Lawrence Kleopfer (Dorothy), and Herman Kleopfer (Lenora). He was especially close to his uncle Wallace Gray (Patsy), who first called him Dutch. His aunt was Nelda Carey (Bob). Dutch loved his cousins Marvin Kleopfer, Nancy Davis, Betty Johnson, and Bud Gray. His dear friends and mentors, who often helped on the farm, include Joe Tilley (Eloise), Robert Knox (Mary), Nay Monroe (Lois), and Howard Fewell (Millie).

A celebration of Dutch's life was on May 8, 2021, at the Hanover United Methodist Church. Morgan and Nay Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

Charles Edward "Buddy" Waller, 89, of Lexington, Indiana formerly of Madison passed from this life on Saturday, May 1, 2021. He entered this life on December 30, 1931 in Westport, Kentucky. He was the loving son of the late William Edward and Emma K. Wright Waller. He was inducted into the United States Air Force on February 12, 1951 in Louisville, Kentucky. He rose to the rate of Staff Sergeant serving during the Korean War. He was honorably discharged on May 26, 1955 at Camp Kilmer, New Jersey receiving the National Defense Service Medal and the Good Conduct Medal. He was then transferred to the National Guard of Kentucky serving there until he was discharged on June 9, 1964 in Louisville, Kentucky. Buddy was united in marriage on April 7, 1954 in England to Olga Manley. This union of 24 years was blessed with a son, Terry Lee and a daughter, Teresa Lynn. Buddy Waller was well known throughout the water and sewer utility industry for nearly 60 years. Given Buddy's many accomplishments and business success, it may come as a surprise to learn that his formal education ended with the 8th grade. This fact never held him back. At times, he worked three jobs - including as a La Grange police officer - to provide a better life for his family. Throughout his life, Buddy was extraordinarily adept at solving mechanical and technical challenges. He was an extremely fast learner who could accomplish anything he set his mind to. Buddy started his long career as a manual laborer for La Grange (Kentucky) Utilities. Knowing he could make more money, Buddy earned his water and sewer licenses and was eventually promoted to superintendent. By 1970, he was superintendent of Florence Kentucky Utilities. Buddy's charismatic personality and his extensive experience in the industry led to a successful career in sales for Mid-States Meter, based in Lexington, Kentucky. Buddy excelled selling Badger water meters, which he had purchased during his many years as a water superintendent. In fact, his 'CB' handle was 'The Meter Man'. Eventually, Buddy opened a branch warehouse for Mid-States Meter, in Seymour, Indiana where he was joined in the business by his son, Terry Waller. For decades, Buddy was the most popular entertainment at the water utility conferences throughout Southern Indiana. His talents as a singer and guitar player helped build relationships with customers and suppliers alike. In 1982, at the age of 51, Buddy decided to open his own company, Waller's Meter, in Madison, Indiana. Buddy secured distributorships for the top-line manufacturers and the loyalty of his former customers. He rented the riverfront property formerly occupied by Meese, Incorporated ('The Old Cotton Mill') until purchasing it in 1989. Buddy was known by several nicknames including 'The Chief', 'The Pipe Baron' and 'The Cotton King'. The riverfront was home to Waller's Meter (and to Buddy and wife, Louann) until 2001 when the business moved to Madison's hilltop. Buddy's musical career did not end after starting Waller's Meter. In fact, he continued to perform at waterworks conferences for many years, and he played a regular gig at the Shrimp House where he was billed as 'Madison's own Kenny Rogers'. Buddy was generous with his gratitude to those who helped Waller's Meter prosper. He often said that the company would not have made it without the dedication of longtime employee and close friend Pat (Gray) Gidley or the contributions of his son Terry and daughter Teresa (who joined the company in 1990) or the loyalty and hard work of his employees. At the end of his life, Buddy took great comfort in knowing that his children would continue his legacy. By Buddy's side for the last 30 years was Louann (White) who shared his love of the river. They enjoyed many wonderful years living on the Cotton Mill property, with their houseboat docked just across the road. Buddy and Louann were united in marriage on August 29, 2005 in Nashville, Tennessee. They welcomed many guests to their riverfront life, entertaining them with live music by Buddy and his nephews, Adam and Ed Davis. Buddy was a lifelong motorcyclist, a passion he shared with Louann.

They took many road trips together and with their friends John and Denise Clark. Moving away from their life at the river was bittersweet for Buddy and Louann. But they grew to love the new home they built on a beautiful lake in the country. Buddy enjoyed fishing right outside his back door. They hosted many family gatherings and had wonderful neighbors. Buddy was blessed to spend his final days at home, with Louann and his family by his side.

Private services were conducted Friday, May 7, 2021, at the Indiana Veterans Memorial Cemetery, 1415 North Gate Road in Madison, Indiana. Interment followed in the Indiana Veterans Memorial Cemetery, 1415 North Gate Road in Madison, Indiana. A final salute and military honors was provided by the Major Samuel Woodfill Post No. 9 of the American Legion.

Memorial contributions may be made in lieu of flowers to the Alexander Feltner Memorial Fund or the Riverfront Development Endowment Fund, through the Community Foundation. Cards are available at the Morgan & Nay Funeral Centres of Madison and Hanover. Online condolences, remembrances and memorials can be left at www.morgan-nay.com.

Public forum on county's needle exchange program informative and supportive of community

No big declarations were aired at a May 5 public forum about Scott County's free needle exchange program. Scott is among nine Indiana counties which still operate a needle exchange, giving clean new needles to addicts in exchange for used ones.

Commissioners organized the public forum as they debated among themselves if the county should continue the program or drop it.

Statements offered that evening came from recovering drug addicts to respected medical professionals that included some local, state and national public health figures.

Everyone who spoke before the standing-room-only crowd supported the program that has provided clean syringes to those who request them since 2015.

Locally, nationally and internationally, that year will never be forgotten. Scott County saw a sharp, sudden spike in the number of cases of HIV, a virus that can lead to deadly AIDS if not treated, and Hepatitis C, another deadly condition if not treated. Reportedly, both had traveled to Scott County via a visitor from Louisville, Ky., who traded needles with local drug abusers. Those addicts shared needles with others and suddenly, Scott County was in the national news as the source of the first recognized rural epidemic of HIV.

That year saw many public health professionals from the Indiana State Department of Health (ISDH) travel and remain in Scott County for weeks. They helped staff of the local Health Department set up systems to help those afflicted.

Some of those people were at the Board of Commissioners' forum that Wednesday night. Several other speakers credited the local effort in helping them to turn their lives around.

It wasn't easy for any of them, their stories revealed. Yet one young woman told Commissioners that the needle exchange is an integral part of why she is alive, recovering and the mother of two healthy children.

The program is more than a needle exchange, they explained. It helps health professionals gain access to more drug abusers. "They see us as people, not a number, and they treat us as humans," one recovering addict stated.

Phil Stuckey, a former police officer and recovering addict, heads the Thrive program. He started off the nearly three-hour forum by explaining what Thrive does for those who come to meetings. He credited a group of locals who serve as coaches for people trying to wean themselves away from drugs with saving several lives. A total of 1,885 individuals in Scott County have reached out for help, Stuckey said.

Through all these actions in this closely-bound network, lives have been saved, Stuckey said. "Scott County is a national model for (drug and addiction) recovery, a national model," Stuckey stressed. "These people do it right."

Next after Stuckey came Sheriff Jerry Goodin and former sheriff Dan McClain. Both of them advocated to continue the needle exchange. "Look at the stats. This program works," Sheriff Goodin said, adding, "For the safety of this community, our children and for the prisoners, continue this program."

Dr. Kevin Rogers, Public Health Officer for Scott County, looked pale as he sat before Commissioners with Health Department Administrator Michelle Matern. Dr. Rogers was recently injured in a vehicle accident, but he felt strongly enough about the needle exchange that he decided to attend. He thanked all in the room for their enthusiasm and support and recognized out-of-town visitors Dr. Kristina Box, the current State Health Commissioner, and Dr. Jerome Adams, former State Health Commissioner who served as the U.S. Surgeon General during the Trump administration.

Dr. Rogers commented that he felt the needle exchange "...has been a Godsend to Scott County. It has enabled us to have access to people who weren't getting healthcare."

Hike at Nine Penny Branch Nature Preserve on May 15

Join in a guided hike on Saturday, May 15 at 9 a.m. of the Nine Penny Branch Nature Preserve located on Tunnel Mill Rd. in Charlestown. The total hike is 3 miles and is considered moderate.

This will be a slow paced hike so that those participating can enjoy the wildflowers.

Community Meal on Thursdays at Rivers of Living Waters in Salem

There will be a free community meal every Thursday from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. at Rivers of Living Waters Ministries, 711 W. Mulberry Street in Salem.

Anyone and everyone who desires a good, hot, home cooked meal is invited and welcome to attend, eat and enjoy fellowship with others! Those attending are asked to enter through the back door into the fellowship hall.

Matern provided Commissioners with facts and figures. Where once the clinic distributing new needles gave out a minimum of 115 per visit, now the count is down to 70 per visit, she related. Currently 229 people are in the needle exchange program. Others have died or recovered or dropped out.

Scott County's HIV suppression rate is now 11 percent, better than the national average. For every dollar spent on recovery and prevention, the community saves $7.58, she pointed out. This alone proves that a healthy community does far better economically, Matern contended.

There were more people who spoke. Commissioner John Lizenby told one man in the audience, "I arrested you (when Lizenby was a police officer) several times. Glad to see you here, but I didn't expect to see you."

Commissioner Mike Jones was the most vocal of the three officials. Jones has served as a volunteer fireman and first responder for many years. Many of the emergency runs he has experienced has involved drug addiction. "None of those I have personally Narcanned have ever thanked us (for saving the person from an overdose). Nobody has ever said, 'I need help,' well, maybe when they get handcuffed," he advised.

Randy Julian, the newest Commissioner on the board, was the quietest that evening. He used the forum to collect more information, so much so that he told Jones and Lizenby that he could not assure them that he would be ready to vote on the fate of the needle exchange by the Commissioners' next meeting, set for May 19. "I need to study all this (information) first," he said.

Dr. Box thanked the men for having the forum and hearing from those on the front line of the fight to save lives from addiction. "We came prepared to provide you with information, but we didn't need to do that because your community has done that tonight. You had the courage and strength in 2015 to start this fight. We don't want to lose Scott County," she told them.

Jean Robbins, a former Commissioner and a professional in the public health field for 42 years, perhaps summed up the night
