Commissioners vote 2-1 to end free county needle exchange program on January 1

No argument presented for or against the free needle exchange program (NEP) operated in Scott County since 2015 changed any of the minds of those serving on the Board of Commissioners on Wednesday night, June 2.

Commissioners Mike Jones and Randy Julian voted to stop the program as of January 1, 2022. Commissioner John Lizenby voted against the motion, wanting the program to continue.

"When doctors and state officials and others tell you a program is working, you don't stop it," Lizenby explained to television reporters later.

But Jones, who serves as the Commissioners' board president, and Julian, who joined the board as a commissioner this past January, had no love for the NEP. Jones has served as a volunteer fireman in the Scottsburg community for over 30 years. He's been a certified First Responder for about 22 years. "You walk into a house where you've been called because of an overdose. And you see needles, everywhere. You get your firemen out of there because it's not safe," Jones stated.

He's also used the popular overdose antidote Narcan many times, bringing apparent overdose victims back to consciousness. "They wake up and get up and leave, and there's no penalty," he said.

As many numbers presented to him by health officers such as Michelle Matern, administrator of the Scott County Health Department, and Kevin Rogers, County Public Health Officer, Jones countered with his own research. He pointed out much of his information came from Dr. Kristina Box, Indiana Health Commissioner. Dr. Box and others from the Indiana State Health Department had attended the three-hour public forum held in May. All encouraged Commissioners to continue the program at the forum.

Why? In May and on that Wednesday night, figures were given that indicated that the well-run local NEP has cut the occurrence of HIV and Hepatitis C in Scott County to an extreme low from 2015 to 2020. 2015 is a year most Scott County residents would like to forget. In that year, HIV and Hep C both increased to levels unseen before in a rural community. The health crisis caused state, national and international attention to rivet on Scott County.

In 2020, Matern reported, the county had only one new case of HIV discovered.

Needle advocates credit NEPs with the fall of those diseases as well as other diseases and infections which arise from people sharing needles.

Still, Julian and Jones argued people should take responsibility and be held accountable for their continued drug use. Taking personal responsibility was scoffed by some in the audience as an impossible goal for a person deep in the throes of drug addiction. At least two people that evening said they became addicted through injuries they suffered, not because they came from a drug environment.

Both Commissioners listened as pleas were offered to keep the program going, but the original motion proposed by Jones set a closure date for the program on September 1.

Too soon, several argued, including Phil Stuckey, director of THRIVE, a recovery program that operates in the county. "Give us more time," he urged Jones, whom he claimed as a friend. Jones amended his motion to January 1.

"I'd really like to see us come up with a program that's going to continue the mental health efforts and the medical help (without providing free needles)," Jones stated. Julian readily agreed with the idea.

Jones also said he was open to hearing ideas for such an alternate program, or amending his opinion of having a local NEP "…if something happens…" allowing circumstances could affect his position.

For now, however, local health officials must prepare for the end of the program.

Rebirth of Broadway – Austin Parks Board Submits Grant Application to DNR for $900,000

The Austin Parks Board officially submitted a grant application to the DNR for $900,000.00 on Tuesday, June 1.

The Parks Board expressed their appreciation to the Austin Redevelopment Committee, trustee Virgil Johnson, City of Austin, and Scott County Commissioners for their match.

When it is awarded, the plan is for a nature trail, disc golf, splash park, tennis court, pickle ball court, additional playground equipment, walking path solar lighting, upgrade existing lighting, open air concessions/vending area, entry signage, property acquisition, and maintenance of existing facilities.

"The project name is "Rebirth of Broadway". The entire parks board and leadership of Austin has been totally supportive," noted Ishmael White.

Queen candidates, Little Misses and Masters photo shoot on June 17

Contestants in the 2021 Miss Scott County Fair Queen Pageant and the Little Miss and Little Master of Scott County competitions must report on Thursday, June 17, to the Scott County Museum in Scottsburg.

That evening has been set for photo shoots for both groups of competitors in this year's events. Children who live in Scott County and who are ages four to seven can compete in the Little Miss and Little Master contest. Their photos will begin at 5:30 p.m. on the lawn of the Museum, located at 1050 South Main Street.

Parents of children entered must bring their completed forms and the $10 entry fee. Only cash will be accepted by members of the Pilot Club of Scott County, which organizes both competitions.

Young ladies entering the Miss Scott County Fair Queen Pageant should come to the Museum at 6 p.m. Both single and group photos will be taken of all contestants. Each prospective queen must bring her completed contest form, autobiography and entry fee of $50.

Entry forms and additional information are available at Marti's House of Flowers in Austin and Fashions in Flowers in Scottsburg as well as the office of The Scott County Herald on U.S. Highway 31 North and all libraries in Scottsburg, Austin and Lexington.

Scott County Herald Sports Briefs

by Aaron Stainbrook - Sports Reporter

The Scottsburg Warriors baseball team lost to Silver Creek in sectionals. The Warriors could not keep up with Silver Creek as they lost 7-1. David Edwards took the loss for the Warriors and Ethan Murphy took the win for Silver Creek. Noah Smith led the Warriors by going 2-3 at the plate. The final score was 7-1.

The Scottsburg Warriorettes softball season ended in rigionals against Greensburg on Tuesday, June 1. The Warriorettes fell behind 2-0 after the first inning and just could not get anything going. The Warriorettes will hopefully return everyone next season besides the 3 seniors Alyssa Lucas, Zoe Zellers, and Ashley Martin. The Warriorettes managed to score 2 runs in the game but ended up losing 5-2.

Chance Craig from the Austin Eagles track team broke a school record at sectionals by winning three events. He won the 4x800, 1600, and the 3200. This is what it means to him to hold the record "it means a lot considering we have had some really good runners come through Austin, I couldn't have done it without the help of my teammates pushing me every run." This is what Chance said it means to him to win sectionals "it means a lot to our family, coaches, and team. We were not the favorite to win sectionals, but we had a bunch of different guys step up. Our seniors were the ones who really helped the team grow and realize what we were capable of. I'm glad I was able to help them finish running at Austin on a high note.".

Athletes tell us how this year was different from any other year with sports and how they stay motivated. Our athlete is from Crothersville High School named Kaylyn Holman. Kaylyn was a Junior this season and is going to be a senior this upcoming year. She ran cross country and track. This is what she said of how this season was " the year was different because we were not allowed to have summer practices to condition for Cross Country. Not many meets were canceled because of Covid-19. We were limited fans and that was different. I mean it was Cross Country and not many people come anyways but that did change things. To stay motivated I was just thinking about how my competition was practicing and could not get behind them and I had to keep working hard."

The Scottsburg Warriors had several get Academic All state, Academic All State Honorable Mention, one Athlete got 2nd team All state and South All Star, 3 athletes got Garner Conference Honors , and 4 athletes got Conference Honors. Gavin BOrden got Academic All State and Isaac Johanningsmeier got Academic All State Honorable Mention. Ashley Martin from the Warriorettes Softball team got 2nd Team all state and South All Star. Cole Atha and Treyton Owens were named All Mid Southern Conference and David Edwards got a Honorable Mention; they were all part of the Warriors baseball team. Lyla Waskon and Grace Routt got All MSC Honores and Brinley Soloe and Olivia Fugate got MSC Honorable Mention all part of the Warriorettes Tennis team. Congratulations to all.

Indiana will end federal pandemic unemployment benefits June 19

Governor Eric J. Holcomb announced that Indiana will end its participation in all federally funded pandemic unemployment insurance programs effective June 19, 2021.
The programs that will end are:

Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation (FPUC), which provides a $300 weekly add-on to recipients of unemployment insurance.

Pandemic Emergency Unemployment Compensation (PEUC), which provides recipients extended benefits after their traditional 26 weeks of unemployment insurance benefits have been exhausted

Pandemic Unemployment Assistance (PUA), which provides benefits to individuals who do not normally qualify for unemployment benefits, such as self-employed, gig workers, and independent contractors.

Mixed Earner Unemployment Compensation (MEUC), which provides a $100 additional weekly benefit for individuals who are eligible for regular unemployment benefits but also earned at least $5,000 in self-employment income.

"There are help wanted signs posted all over Indiana, and while our economy took a hit last year, it is roaring like an Indy 500 race car engine now. I am hearing from multiple sector employers that they want and need to hire more Hoosiers to grow," said Gov. Holcomb. "We have a myriad of work options in every region of our state with many more coming online every week."

Indiana's unemployment rate, which jumped to more than 17 percent at the height of the pandemic, has recovered to 3.9 percent. More Hoosiers are in the workforce now than a year ago, and the labor force participation rate is nearing the pre-pandemic level.

"Eliminating these pandemic programs will not be a silver bullet for employers to find employees, but we currently have about 116,000 available jobs in the state that need filled now," said Holcomb. "I've spoken to leaders in the recreational vehicle industry who tell me they could hire thousands of people today, and in the last couple weeks, we've seen companies like Amazon, Apple, Toyota, and Milwaukee Tool announce thousands of new career opportunities for Hoosiers.

"We've re-emerged from the COVID pandemic and free vaccinations that protect you from the virus are available throughout the state. The CDC has provided guidance that says vaccinated people can feel secure about not wearing face coverings in many circumstances. Day care facilities are open and our economy is humming," said Gov. Holcomb. "Indiana also offers free opportunities for Hoosiers to skill up and trade up to better jobs. This is where we will continue to concentrate our efforts so all Hoosiers can get on their pathway to personal prosperity."

On May 11, Gov. Holcomb signed an executive order to reinstate requirements that Hoosiers who are requesting unemployment benefits be actively seeking full-time work beginning on June 1. Work search activities include applying for a job, attending a job fair, participating in WorkOne orientation, or completing an online workshop.

In addition to notifying affected Hoosiers about the reinstatement of work search requirements, the Indiana Department of Workforce Development will notify impacted unemployment insurance claimants about the discontinuation of the federal pandemic benefits.

Kimberlin Creek Church offers free clothes closet every month

People needing clothing are welcome to visit Shared Blessings, the free clothes closet offered at Kimberlin Creek Baptist Church every third Saturday of the month.

This service is open next from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday, June 19.

Anyone needing clothing is welcome to visit. All are asked to wear face masks inside the building.

The church is located just east of the intersection of State Roads 3 and 356 on S.R. 356.

Davisson, Payne: Local students receive educator scholarship

Local students preparing to become teachers are among this year's recipients of the state's Next Generation Hoosier Educators Scholarship, according to State Reps. Steve Davisson (R-Salem) and Zach Payne (R-Charlestown).

The scholarship program, established in 2016 through legislation supported by Davisson, awards $7,500 annually to 200 high-achieving students who commit to teaching in the state for at least 5 years after graduating college.

"These scholarships encourage students to enter the teaching field and stay in our communities," Davisson said. "This program is a great way to alleviate some of the potential financial burdens of college so they can focus on growing their skills."

More than 400 students applied, and these Clark, Jefferson and Scott County students are among this year's 200 scholarship recipients:

- Emma Jones, Henryville Jr-Sr High School;
- Riley Nunn, Henryville Jr-Sr High School;
- Clayton Seals, Southwestern High School;
- Jillian Smith, Scottsburg Senior High School;
- Anna Spicer, Henryville Jr-Sr High School; and
- Gracie True, Madison Consolidated High School.

"Teachers are important leaders in both our schools and communities," Payne said. "They have a pivotal role in influencing our young learners, and these scholarships help keep some of the best future educators in our Hoosier classrooms."

Those qualifying for the renewable scholarship totaling up to $30,000 must graduate in the highest 20 percent of their high school class or earn a score in the top 20th percentile on the SAT or ACT.

To learn more and apply for the next round of scholarships opening in the fall, visit LearnMoreIndiana.org/nextteacher.

Homeowners, builders cautioned to obtain permits before beginning projects

Before undertaking big and little projects to improve properties, property owners are advised to remember to obtain Improvement Location Permits (ILPs) before starting work.

ILPs are needed before building a house, garage or pole barn or adding an outbuilding, shed, deck, porch, patio or swimming pool in Austin, Scottsburg and Scott County. Each of these communities has similar requirements that must be fulfilled. Persons needing ILPs or additional information may contact the following agencies:

+Scott County Advisory Plan Commission, 812-752-8445, ext. 1, at the office in the basement of the Courthouse in downtown Scottsburg. Office hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday to Friday. Permits are issued only on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays starting at 9:30 a.m. The Courthouse is currently closed to the public, so scheduling appointments is a must.

+Austin Advisory Plan Commission, 812-794-2877, the Austin Clerk-Treasurer's office at Austin City Hall. Hours are from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Again, call to schedule an appointment.

+Scottsburg Advisory Plan Commission, 812-722-1157. The APC office is located at Scottsburg City Hall, which remains closed to the public. Hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Local DAR chapter members will take worn American flags

Members of the General Charles Scott Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), are active in promoting the proper display of the American flag and its proper disposal when old and torn.

According to federal law known as the Flag Code, there are guidelines to follow when displaying Old Glory. The Code also has a procedure to follow when a flag becomes worn and needs to be "retired."

The DAR, in collaboration with the area Sons of the American Revolution chapter, asks residents and businesses to check the condition of the flags they fly on a weekly basis. If it is worn or in poor condition, call 812-752-4419 to arrange to have it picked up or to drop it off. DAR members ensure that worn flags will be destroyed in a dignified manner.

Twice Told Tales used bookstore June dates

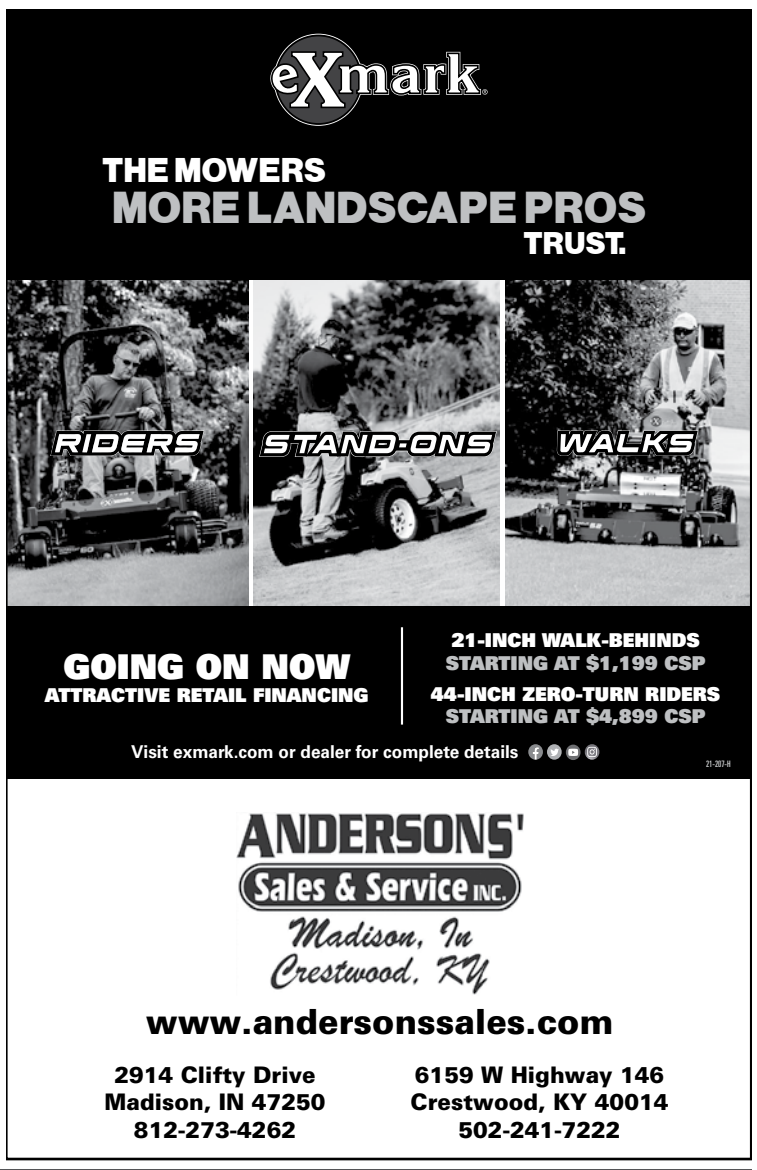

For the month of June, the Twice Told Tales used bookstore will be open June 11, 12 and 26. Operating hours are 9 a.m. until 2 p.m., and they are located on North Washington in Scottsburg. The store is in the Maranatha House, just behind the Presbyterian Church and across the street from Scottsburg Elementary School parking lot.

All profits go to the Dolly Parton Imagination Library program as well as local county library events. Sales are featured each month. Paper back and hard back books both have lots of choices and there are some CD's and DVD's as well. Volunteers always on hand to help find what is needed.

Frank Driggers Of Austin Sentenced to 8 Years For Dealing Methamphetamine and Domestic Battery

Frank Driggers of Austin was convicted of Dealing Methamphetamine and Domestic Battery and has been sentenced to eight (8) years for his offenses. He will serve the first four (4) of those years in prison and will have four (4) years of probation upon his release.

In August of 2020, officers from the Scott County Sheriff's Department, through the use of a confidential informant, purchased methamphetamine off Mr. Driggers at a residence on Wilber Avenue. After the illegal drug transaction, a report was submitted to the prosecutor's office and charges were filed in September of 2020.

Also in August of 2020, officers from the Austin Police Department responded to a report of domestic violence at this same residence on Wilber Avenue. Mr. Driggers was arrested and charged with Domestic Battery for his actions that day. The Prosecutor's Office was able to secure convictions for both the drug dealing and for the domestic battery.

"Our office is committed to protecting the people of Scott County and this protection includes sending people to prison who harm our community members. Whether a defendant hurts others by the illegal sale of drugs or by their physical actions, we are committed to seeing that justice be done and that defendants are held accountable," stated Chris Owens, prosecuting attorney.

Owens expressed his gratitude to the Austin Police Department and the Scott County Sheriff's Office for their work that led to these charges and convictions. He also thanks Deputy Prosecutor Mark Kiesler for his work in obtaining the conviction and sentence in these matters.

Centra Credit Union Launches Members Loyalty Rewards

A Centra Credit Union Membership means something. That phrase is the foundation of Centra's new Member Loyalty Rewards. Over 18 months, Centra Team Members brainstormed, researched, and tested ideas that would create value for Centra Members. Member Loyalty Rewards are the end result.

Each person who banks with Centra is a Member and that also makes them an owner of the Credit Union. When Centra's Members contribute to Centra's success, the Credit Union can invest back into the Membership, continuing the cycle. Centra always gives back through better rates, lower fees, and support for its communities. But the team at Centra wanted to do more.

That's why they sought to find the best way to directly reward Members for helping the Credit Union succeed. As the team added more and more ideas, they all agreed that the most valuable reward for Members is cash. Member research supported this. Once the team had developed Member Loyalty Rewards, Centra needed to hear from its Members. Since November 2020, more than 100 Team Members and Members have tested Member Loyalty Rewards and Cashback Checking. Their feedback helped Centra make the program even more valuable.

Member Loyalty Rewards was officially launched on May 17, and Centra kicked off the program with $2 million in dividends paid out in the form of Member Loyalty Bonuses. These bonuses rewarded Centra Members for aiding in the Credit Union's success, and length of Membership was one of the biggest factors for determining a Member's bonus. The team at Centra found a balance and a way to show Members how a credit union works. Each person who banks with Centra is a Member. Each Member can contribute to Centra's success, and each Member can get rewarded for their contribution.

Barn sale at County Museum set for each Saturday through June

Sales will be held each Saturday in June at the barn on the property of the Scott County Heritage Center and Museum in Scottsburg. Dates are June 12, 19 and 26.

The museum and its barn are located at 1050 South Main Street, Scottsburg.

Hours each Saturday are 8 a.m. to 12 noon. All proceeds benefit the museum's operating fund.

People can rent space around the barn to have their own yard sales. Cost is $10 for the day. Renters must provide their own set-ups. Tents are allowed. Set-ups each sale day start at 7 a.m. Call the museum at 812-752-1050 for rental information and to learn how items can be donated for barn sales.

New Safe Exchange Zone Opened by the Sheriff's Office

Working in cooperation with the Scott County Commissioners, the Scott County Sheriff's Office has created a "Safe Exchange Zone," for the exchange of children when child custody disputes are involved. The "Safe Exchange Zone" can also be used by folks who sell items on social media and need a safe place to meet the person they are either buying from or selling to. The "Safe Exchange Zone's" uses are really unlimited. The "Safe Exchange Zone" features a marked designated area directly across (west) of the Scott County Sheriff's Office. The "Safe Exchange Zone" has fully functional recording cameras and these cameras are monitored 24 Hours a day. Once you get to the area of the Sheriff's Office you can follow the signs to the "Safe Exchange Zone".

Sheriff Goodin stated, "This is just another thing that we can do to help our citizens feel and actually be safer". Sheriff Goodin also wanted to thank the Scott County Commissioners for allowing the Sheriff's Office to build the "Safe Exchange Zone" in their parking lot.

Two New Police Officers and One Returning Back to the Dept. at Crothersville

Two new reserve officers were sworn in on May 13, after completing their 40 hour pre-basic course qualifying them to be reserve officers. The Crothersville Police Department welcomes Officer Jacob Sharp and Officer Derrick Minton to the department and are thankful to have them on the team. They are also proud to announce the return of Officer Mike Weiler as he has also completed his training to return to the department after the accident on I-65.

Students, Classes and Groups were Highlighted at District 2 School Board Meeting

The Scott County School District 2 Board of Trustees met for their regularly scheduled meeting on Tuesday, May 4.

The board started off with Student Highlights. Mrs. Morris' Intro to Business classes had the option this year to enter Innovate WithIN. This is an annual business plan competition where teams or individuals come up with a business idea and present their plan. This year in the Regional Finals, Scottsburg High School had three of the five teams competing in the Regional. The winner won $1000 and a chance to compete in the State Finals. The Regional Final was held via Zoom Tuesday, April 27th.

Representing Scottsburg High School:

Kaedence Barnard - K Beauty

Scarlett Camp, Jocelyne Allen, and Katelin Conder - Quick Therapy

Allison Treadway and Taneisha Griffin - Moonglow Bars

Allison and Taneisha placed second and will be a wild card entry to attempt to secure the final spot at the State Finals. We are very proud of these students for accepting this challenge of creating their business ideas and competing so well

Scottsburg Middle School Highlights and Happenings were presented by Mrs. Keri Hammons.

Mrs. Hammons recognized the following student and sponsors;

Academic Bowl Team
Recycling Club
Builders Club
Student Council

Each sponsor highlighted great achievements that their club has accomplished this school year. Mrs. Hammons also introduced the SMS Staff that were in attendance.

The board congratulated the students and thanked the teachers for all they do and are very appreciative.

In other matters of business, Superintendent Dr. Marc Slaton asked permission to modify the agenda as follows:

Mr. Best made a motion to approve. Second by Mrs. Broady, motion carried 5-0.

Lacey Hall - VFES Maternity leave for Lindsey Cazares

Jeremy Beswick SMS Football volunteer

Carolyn Finch - SMS 5.5 hr/182 days Cook

Breanna Allman - SMS 5.5 hr/182 days Cook

Wanda Barnett - Retiring May 31st - VFES Head Custodian
